DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed on December 7, 2004 has been entered. Claims 2, 6-7 and 11-15 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 12-15 depend on cancelled claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kato et al in view of Baumann et al.

Kato et al discloses all the claimed limitations except the long sides being approximately half the distance between tube openings.

Baumann et al discloses a heat exchanger (Figure 4) comprising a header plate 3 having a plurality of openings receiving a plurality of flat tubes 4; wherein the tubes are closely spaced such that long edges 14 are approximately half the distance between tube openings for the purpose of providing strength.

Since Kato et al and Baumann et al are both from the same field of endeavor and/or analogous art, the purpose disclosed by Baumann et al would have been recognized in the pertinent art of Kato et al.

It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to employ in Kato et al closely spaced tubes such that long edges are approximately half the distance between tube openings for the purpose of providing strength as recognized by Baumann et al.

The recitation of "cut" is read as an interface where two portions of an element are separated by any manufacturing step.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-7 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971).

The Examiner appreciates applicant's concerns with respect to the different structures of Kato et al Baumann et al. However, the instant invention does not recite any structural limitations with respect to presence of flanges or distances between the long sides of the tubes and the header plate.

In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art would recognize two aspects in the combination of references. Firstly, strength of the core is improved due to the close spacing of the tubes, where a greater density of tubes is more rigid than a lesser density of tubes. Secondly, strength of the header plate is improved minimizing the spacing between long sides of adjacent tubes. The closely spaced long sides of adjacent tubes effectively provides an additional layer to the header plate. Furthermore, the brazed joint surface areas are minimized to reduce solder blooming and corrosion.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 3753

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
